

malteplorer Toyota

Land Cruiser, Series 80 "sackwear edition"

The malteplorer Toyota Land Cruiser Sackwear is built on a 1993 Toyota Land Cruiser HDJ80 chassis. After a complete restoration, we add extra performance parts including a 16 inch disc brake system, new power steering components and a custom made suspension system with adjustable shocks and remote reservoirs. Our upgrades make the performance and handling of this vehicle something truly awesome.

The body panels are all sandblasted, so we can start at ground zero with the paint. We chose Porsche 997 GT3 grey for our color and installed a complete noise insulation kit as well as carpet throughout.

We extended the custom carbon fiber cab an additional 5 inches to add even more perks, such as a lithium ion power bank with 120 volt landline and a solar powered internal charger. In addition to our standard screened-in pop up top and two sleeping compartments, the cab also holds two 100 Wp solar panels and Front Runner's best board carrier with a special edition Martin Shapes paddle board.
